092754G / CUA40715 Certificate IV in Design

Certificate IV in Design reflects the role of designers at the beginning of their professional careers. They combine technical, creative and conceptual skills to create designs that respond to briefs requirements and solve a range of visual communication challenges. They have overall understanding of design theory and practice and are able to analyse and synthesise information from a range of sources to generate design solutions. Graphic designers work in many different commercial and community contexts across both print and digital media. At this level, the designer is likely to be working in junior or generalist roles. Their work may include or have links to areas such as advertising and promotion, branding, corporate identity, instructional design and digital media.
